

Move Into Hospital Annex Set This Week

New Office, Lobby And Laboratories Operating; Patient Floors Opening

Workers are completing last minute details as the new $3,000,000 Dr. R. W. Binney wing of St. Elizabeth Hospital, facilities in the five-story 100-bed annex are expected to be in operation by the end of this week.

The first step of occupancy, completed last week, was the opening of the ground floor with entrance lobby, office section, communications and reception center for the clerical and supervisory staff.

In size, the new office is essentially quadruple that of the old, which is situated on the converted into patient's rooms.

"How we can get about, with out turning over quarters or tromping on toes," is the way Sister M. Francis described the new facilities. She is hospital accountant, and the nun along with Sister M. Stanisla, administrator of the institution, have offices of their own.

Sister M. Francis said it was as a welcome relief from the previous cramped quarters, added, parenthetically, she hoped it would result in better service on all fronts.

Moving Schedule

By the end of this week, if the moving schedule doesn't go completely awry, Sister Stanisla expects that the first, second, third and fourth floors of the Dr. Robert W. Binney wing will be in use.

The new kitchen has been in operation for some time, she reported.

Under the plan of occupancy, it was explained, the new wing undergoing medical treatment will occupy annex first floor rooms.

Second floor patients' rooms will be reserved for those undergoing surgery, and the third floor of the new wing will afford an extension of the hospital's maternity ward.

New wing fourth floor is known as the pediatric section. This is in line with the present pattern.

Residence quarters and auxiliary facilities for nurses are on the fifth floor. This isn't expected to be occupied "until sometime after Christmas," Sister Stanisla explained. They will vacate their present convent.

Each of the new floors has a large, well-lit and commodious court room which will facilitate the work of the medical, nursing and supervisory staff.

Later in the winter, new recruits will swell the Auxiliary forces in this task.

Leonard Pulley of Collinsville and Paul Pittsworth, 272 Myrtle avenue, are recovering at St. Elizabeth Hospital from surgery which they underwent last Thursday.

Levee Board Elects—Again; 2 Presidents?

The second East Side Levee and Sanitary District board trustees' election in two weeks was held this morning at the board's headquarters in East St. Louis, but the legality of both moves apparently is in question to be settled by the courts.

After Board President Dan E. Costello, re-elected by a "quorum" of two of the five board members two weeks ago, read a statement calling this morning's meeting "illegal" and walked out of the board chambers, Trustees John E. Moll and F. "Skip" Hennessy and Lawrence T. Tolar continued with their own reorganizational meeting and elected Tolar as president.

Retained during this morning's meeting were Chief Engineer Steven Kernan, Levee District Attorney Fred P. Schuman, Treasurer Mayor Stephen Macias of Madison, Chief Clerk Charles Melvin and Deputy Chief Clerk Mrs. Blanche Runyon.

Gray Is 'Repulsed'

But three trustees named Thomas P. O'Donnell, an East St. Louis attorney, to replace State Sen. James E. Gray as levee board attorney.

Gray rendered an opinion at the regular Dec. 7 meeting of trustees that Costello and board member George Duff formed a "quorum" after Tolar, Moll and Hennessy had called for a reorganization meeting pending newly-elected trustees' meeting.

Afterwards, Costello was nominated and "re-elected" president by a 2-0 vote. Tolar, Moll and Hennessy said the action was "illegal" and called for a reorganization meeting.

Duff not present. In his statement at today's meeting, Costello said he appeared as president of the board of trustees, not as a trustee. At such, he said, he has the sole right to call a special meeting, which he did not do. Duff did not attend the session.

New board member Hennessy was elected with the backing of Centreville Township Supervisor Francis Pachette, long-time political foe of East St. Louis Mayor Harold W. Ballentine.

Tolar, Moll and Hennessy have stated their opposition to the reorganization of the board is not a personal one, but that the board of trustees is not a person.

The three trustees who conducted business after Costello's election said they had called another board meeting for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the new wing of the hospital.

Whether Costello or Duff will attend was not determined. Costello has said that he, the allied trustees seek to oust him as president they will have to take the matter to court.

Thieves Loot Parked Cars For Stolen Gifts

Weekend Theft Reports In Area Also Include Break-Ins At 4 Homes

While there was some reduction in the value of goods taken during Qued-City area thefts this weekend, ten separate incidents occurred and several involving looting of Christmas gifts from parked cars.

Four house burglaries were reported to local police, and the thefts here also included lumber and an auto.

Deliveries Yesterday

MERRY CHRISTMAS SMILES worn by Ronald Wadlow, clerk at the Kate street post office station which was flooded with incoming gift parcels over the weekend. The arrival was delayed because of heavy snow in the north and east which delayed trains, but local deliveries are being made at a rapid pace.

Mail Hits Peak Today; Parcel Arrivals Delayed By Snows

Local post offices braced today for the onrushing Christmas mail deluge, which will push the cancellations to their peak, postmasters said today.

Peak day tallies are expected to show new records will be established, despite below-par cancellations figures for the first 18 days of December.

Heavy weekend mailings, coupled with the receipt of mail delayed by an eastern snowstorm, is accounting for the peak.

The snowstorm, however, may hold up the packages until after Christmas, an official said.

Parcel post figures are 1000 below the 1959 count, according to Herbert Backs, superintendent of Kate street parcel station.

From Dec. 1 to Dec. 18, 1959, 17,000 estimated pieces were handled.

"Packages are being delayed east of Pittsburgh, Pa., due to snow," Backs said, "and may arrive in avalanche proportions."

Clemency Petition To Be Filed Tuesday For Hodge

Volunteer aid from a number of local lawyers, Randall Robertson, who is planning to file tomorrow a petition for executive clemency for Orville E. Hodge, former state auditor, serving a 12-to-15 year term in Menard State Penitentiary for theft of $1,500,000 state funds.

Robertson said Hodge would not be eligible for parole after three years, but after a recent conference with Hodge at the prison, he decided to petition the governor of the state.

The petition actually will be filed with the State Parole and Pardon Board in Springfield.

The local attorney, who said he had known Hodge since he was a small boy, told the Press-Record yesterday that an additional petition would be needed by the federal parole board.

Hodge already has made application for federal parole, but the federal parole board has not yet acted on his application.

In filing the petition at Springfield, Robertson will be aided by two Springfield attorneys, William F. Fulton and R. G. Heckenkamp, who were here yesterday for a conference.

They will probably file the petition with the Parole and Pardon Board, and then we'll hear from them," Robertson said.

Work May Delay Toll Plaza Use Until Spring

New toll lanes probably will not be opened until late winter or spring, but McKinley Bridge remodeling work will continue as rapidly as possible this winter, Mayor John E. Lee reported Friday night at the Venice city hall, where the city council held its final meeting of 1960.

Work at the top of the Venice approach is delaying use of the new toll plaza.

Bridge Manager Henry McMillen reported on plans to serve coffee and cake to users of the bridge Friday, Dec. 23, at the bridge office, 802 Main street. The hours have been changed to 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Police Chief Robert Trower invited all at the meeting to help package children's Christmas treats Wednesday, starting at 6:30 p.m. Picture slides will be shown and refreshments will be served. Trower, Dr. Lee and City Treasurer Bernard Anderson voiced holiday greetings, and Anderson cited Venice municipal accomplishments of the past year.

Noting that installation of wooden poles for additional residential street lights has been started, Dr. Lee said some complaints have been received on the type of pole used. He added that it is planned to confer with the Illinois Power Co.

The council was notified by Edith Garrett, 411 Mercedia street, plans to seek damages for right legs and back injuries suffered at 2 p.m. June 27 in falling partly into a manhole at the rear of her address as a detour.

Area Representatives Attend Emergency Manpower Meet

A workshop conference for utilization of manpower in the event of a national emergency was held all day Thursday in St. Louis with local labor industry and civil defense officials in attendance.

The conference, first of its kind in the nation, set the pattern for others to be held in large metropolitan areas. Attending from here were Val Cox, AFL-CIO Community Services director, Wendell Melway and William Whitehead of the industrial relations department of Granite City Steel Co.; Malcolm Thompson, local Illinois State Employment Service manager; CD Director George W. Schumacher, Assistant CD Director Victor H. Koenig, and Deputy Director Mrs. Valerie Evenden. Others were from Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Colorado and Illinois, and attendance was estimated at 150, including representatives of industry, labor, civil defense, the U. S. Department of Labor, employment services, Army, Navy,

Air Force, universities and Illinois state police.

Speakers were from Washington, D. C. Region Six Headquarters at Denver, Region Four Headquarters at Battle Creek, Mich., and a Chicago division, U. S. Department of Labor. The conference, held in a St. Louis hotel, was sponsored by the Missouri Division of Employment Security, Illinois State Employment Service, Regional Civil Defense agencies and greater St. Louis Civil Defense directors. As a result of the meeting, a council or committee consisting of labor-management, CD and employment security agencies is to be formed to determine plans, policies and actions of these agencies in the utilization of manpower during an emergency. The final plan will set forth procedures to direct, control and supply manpower, skilled workers or other needed personnel to disaster areas for the period of restoration, rehabilitation and vital recovery programs.

Due to legal problems involving Illinois and Missouri, two separate committees will be formed instead of one, with the two groups drafting plans for the individual states and later coordinating the programs. It is hoped a mutual aid pact can be arranged at a later date.

Heading the Illinois committee will be Larry Miller, who is St. Clair county and East St. Louis CD director, Brig. Gen. F. P. Hardaway is chairman of the Missouri group.

Roadway Free-Cons
Proponents of the roadway stress the need to relieve the Fehling-Nameoki road intersection, and also the added tax revenue from the million-dollar shopping center. Opponents point to numerous other road projects which should be undertaken prior to development of the roadway and add that other developers are required to construct their own streets.

Second Ward Aldermen Samuel Whitmer and Robert Gaughan are expected to submit a recommendation on traffic movement on State street between 21st and 24th streets. At the last session, Whitmer said a number of residents want two-way traffic. During the discussion two weeks ago, a number of aldermen complained of traffic congestion in the downtown district since two-way traffic was resumed on 19th and State streets.

Suicide Attempt By GC Man Halted By Police
Granite City police thwarted a suicide attempt Saturday afternoon by taking a loaded gun away from a 36-year-old local man who was threatening to shoot himself at a residence in the 2400 block of State street. The man, who had gone to the former home of his estranged wife, was placed in the city jail about 5:10 p.m. and later released to relatives.

Off-Street Parking Plan To Be Given GC Council Tonight

A recommendation for establishment of off-street parking areas in downtown Granite City is expected at tonight's council session along with further discussions of a proposed $91,000 street development by the city street development by the city center on N. Main and N. 10th streets and two-way traffic in the downtown area and on State street from 21st to 24th street. Mayor Davis said Friday he was meeting with members of the Off-Street Parking Commission for advance study of the recommendation which is to be made public at tonight's meeting. Members of the commission are Leonard Fleishman, A. William Morris III, Jack Reese and A. E. "Tony" Michie.

The commission presented a preliminary report to the city council last March in which it recommended a reduction of parking spaces from 1,000 to 500, a two-hour maximum to one hour. The suggestion is still under consideration.

To conduct the survey, the council allotted $250 of parking meter funds, and in recent months there have been appraisals of a number of downtown lots and also areas where zoning would be required to establish parking lots.

In preliminary discussions, council members have pointed to the need for additional downtown parking lots and the establishment of metered lots, such as are in operation in other municipalities.

At the last city council session (Dec. 5), members were divided in opinion on sending about $91,000 of city motor fuel tax money to construct a new street, which would serve a new shopping center along Nameoki road, east of the Krugel Co. store.

A resolution calling for the state to designate the proposed street as an arterial thoroughfare was placed on first reading. The street would extend north from the Fehling road curve at the north end of the Granite City high school athletic field and extend approximately to the Big Top Bowl, where it would turn east and join Nameoki road.

Optimists Hear Traffic Chief, See 'Dimes' Film

"Keep Christmas in your drive" were the words of Lt. Paul Moore, traffic division director of the Granite City police department, in his address to the Noonday Optimists Thursday at the Elks Club.

Lt. Moore's talk was followed by a March of Dimes film in the two-part program of the Optimists.

Lt. Moore quoted national statistics in saying that "someone dies every 10 minutes in a traffic accident." He urged 100,000 persons to take extra precaution during the Yuletide season, becoming one of the statistics.

In Granite City in 1958, two persons lost their lives in traffic mishaps, and others were injured in 206 accidents. One-fifth of the accidents occurred between 16th street and 24th streets, Lt. Moore added.

The 1960 accident statistics show that 121 traffic mishaps have occurred in the first eight months, of which 25 were in the same eight-block stretch.

The other portion of the program included a March of Dimes film, which told how money from the fund drives is being spent.

The movie showed research methods to remedy polio, rheumatoid arthritis, and birth defects in clinics throughout the nation.

The film was shown by David Paoli and Donald Lambert Jr., high school students who are active in the pre-Dimes drive and who will participate in the campaign which begins next month. Lambert is the son of Mrs. Donald Lambert, Quad-City drive chairman.

About 40 members attended the meeting. B. C. O'Neill was program chairman.

Mrs. Josephine Voigt, Dies of Stroke At 84

Mrs. Josephine H. Voigt, 84, a 65-year resident of the Mitchell community, died at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at St. Elizabeth's hospital. She had been admitted a few hours earlier. Death was attributed to a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mrs. Voigt was the widow of the late John Voigt, who died about 30 years ago. She was a member of St. Elizabeth's Catholic parish of Mitchell.

She is survived by a son, George Voigt, Mitchell.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Winter Will Arrive At 4:27 P.M. Wednesday

Winter will make a late afternoon entry into the Quad-Cities Wednesday—no exact, at 4:27 p.m.

That's the time of the official beginning of the winter solstice, according to charts of the U. S. Weather Bureau.

And it will be one of the shortest days of the year.

At 4:27 p.m. Wednesday, the sun reaches its southern most point, and then begins its northward swing. For those in the southern hemisphere, Wednesday marks the beginning of summer.

Fire Hydrant Broken In Venice Collision

A fire hydrant was broken off near the intersection of S. 11th and Logan streets in Venice where autos of Johnson Smith, 810 Washington avenue, West Madison, and Ruth L. Howard, 1804 Market street, collided Friday evening. No injuries were reported by Venice police.

The officers said Smith's car went out of control after the crash and ran into the hydrant.

Smoke-Filled House

Firemen were summoned about 9 a.m. Saturday to the house of Mata Meyers, 2425 Iowa street, who reported her house was filled with smoke. Firemen reported the furnace smoke pipe and flue were clogged. No fire damage was reported.

Bonds Vote Is Certified; Work On SIU Center July 1

Certification at Springfield last week of results on the Nov. 9 balloting signaled the go-ahead for Southern Illinois University's large-scale building, development program at its newfledged Madison county campus in the Sunset Hill bluffs region.

A $25,000,000 allocation has been specifically earmarked for the project. Work is expected to get under way about July 1.

The state electoral board, following an official canvass, certified the passage of the pair of bond referenda voted on at the November election. The board found the bonding proposals had mustered sufficient votes to meet constitutional requirements.

These are the $195 million Universities Building and the $150 million Public Welfare bonding propositions. Made a part of the referendum issue was a proviso setting aside $25,000,000 for the SIU educational center near Edwardsville.

Canvass Results

Results of the canvass, as announced by the electoral board: Universities Building "B" bond proposal, 2,633,889 for or 2,633,889 against; Public Welfare bonding, 2,367,567 for, 873,073 against.

Under the restrictions of the state's mental, correctional and rehabilitative institutions, the SIU President Delyte W. Morris has advised the university's trustees that the school is ready to follow the master plan of development of preliminary designs for a library, student center and administration and service buildings at the Sunset Hill site.

Additionally, he disclosed, consideration will be given to classroom and laboratory construction.

Completion By 1963

A university spokesman has said that SIU has no plans to get work underway before July 1. Under the all-over, long-range plan, major building development is to be completed by 1963.

Last October, the university's trustees said a $29,000,000 legislative grant would be sought for capital improvements at the Edwardsville center. Final action on the budgetary request, it was pointed out, isn't expected on the part of the General Assembly until late in the session. Consequently, July 1 was fixed as the tentative date of project work.

The building bonds authorized to be issued, will be sold by the state, and the money placed in the state treasury.

GC Marmen Top Edwardsville, Oilers; Head For Chicago Area On Tuesday

With consecutive dual meet victories 19 and 20 safely tucked away as the result of Southwest conference competition over the weekend, Granite City high school varsity wrestling coach Bill "Red" Schmitt's squad will entertain tomorrow afternoon for the Chicago area, where it tangles two tough upstate foes in two days this week.

The Warriors marmen have a 3-0 SWC record this season, thanks to wins by almost identical scores over Edwardsville and Wood River Thursday and Friday evenings. Granite City topped the Tigers in Edwardsville Thursday 32-15, and Wood River fell 32-16 the following evening in the Warriors' first home mat show this year.

North Chicago, Waukegan Wednesday night North Chicago high school hosts the local team: Thursday the Warriors are visitors at perennial strong Waukegan HS. Both dual meets begin at 7:30 p.m.

Schmitt feels the caliber of competition in greater Chicago will be equal or superior to what Granite City has encountered hereabouts in the course of a 4-0 season, and today he still has problems in his heavier weight divisions.

As of right now, "may or may not make the trip," depending on whether or not a knee injury responds to treatment, Don Fiddell, who tips the scales at 180 pounds, may be unable to make the 180-pound class in the four-day trip—if not the results of challenge matches will determine whether or not the Warriors will go.

Petoff Above Class
The Warriors were in considerably better shape, coach-wise, for Friday's dual with Wood River than they were the previous evening in Edwardsville. Only Petoff had to wrestle above his weight classifications, whereas four GCIS grapplers faced similar situations on Thursday.

Granite's varsity squad won highlights of the matches over Roger Bloodworth's quick 191's (32 seconds) of his Oiler opponents.

"One or two matches would have meant the difference," Schmitt said. "It was really a close call."

The Warriors were under a weight disadvantage in several departments, and had one grappler on the injured list. "It was the highest team I've ever put out on a mat," Schmitt said.

To illustrate his point Schmitt said he had Dennis Pettoff at 151-pound wrestling against 180-lb. Jackie Turner, who is rough enough for a man his own weight.

Bob Kary, who usually wrestles in the 130-pound bracket, was sidelined because of a knee injury. "In three other classifications, we were outwrestled," Schmitt said.

He was referring to Ernie Taylor, 103 pounds, who wrestled in the 112-pound class; Sam Fazio, who weighs 133 and competed in the 138-pound division; and Charles Haug, a 154-pounder, who wrestled in the 165-pound bracket.

Results At Edwardsville
Thursday's results:

95-pound: Neil Buchta pinned Tom Tindall (GC) in 1:37; 103-pound: Darrell Bush over Larry Reynolds (GC) 5-0; 112-pound: Ernie Taylor (GC) over Bill Hoppe, 5-0; 126-pound: Roger Bloodworth (NCH) defeated Bob Nelson, 6-1; 127-pound: Buddy Belchlin (GC) beat Bob Carter, 5-0.

133-pound: Dan Brawley (GC) pinned Conrad Blackburn (GC) 5-0; 138-pound: Sam Fazio (GC) over George Smith (GC) 5-0; 145-pound: Wayne Kolar, 8-0; 154-pound: Bob Cruse (GC) defeated Dick Braden, 5-0; 165-pound: Don Neece (WR) pinned Charles Haug, 2-48; 180-pound: Jim Kanter (WR) defeated Dennis Pettoff, 6-1; heavyweight: Bill Ridings (GC) awarded forfeit win, 5-0.

Jayvees Win
In a Jayvee meet run simultaneously with the varsity competition, victorious GCIS wrestlers were John Troha (forfeit), Skip McMillan (decision), Larry Brisky (pin), Jim Harsh (forfeit), and Quentin Hoover (pin).

The local junior varsity was victorious by a 35-19 margin.

"Sweet Out" Thursday Meet
No one could blame Schmitt for "sweeting out" Thursday's wrestling bouts against Edwardsville, although his Warriors chalked up their 19th straight dual meet victory, 32-15, in Edwardsville.

On the surface, it would appear that Granite City had solidly thumped their Tiger opponents. Not so.

The Warriors held a slim 9-8 margin after the first five bouts, and there was cause for concern. Bloodworth's quick 191's (32 seconds) of his Oiler opponents.

Sluggish Warriors Split With 2 Opponents; Drop 48-47 Cliffhanger To Maroons, Turn Back Flyers 49-39 Saturday

Granite City's Warrior court crew, still gripped by sluggishness, split a pair of Southwest conference games over the weekend.

The Warriors lost a 48-47 contest in Belleville Friday night on a 15-foot jump shot by the Maroons' Frank Synek with 32 seconds left, but got a lift from two reserve guards at East St. Louis 24 hours later and turned back league doormat East St. Louis in a dual contest, 49-39.

Frank Knight, who has been carrying his portion of the scoring load on the front line for Andy Sullivan's club, slumped to only six points in the Belleville contest, taking just seven shots from the field and hitting two.

The Warriors fell behind Jerry Turner's host team 21-25 at halftime and then pulled even late in the game, only to watch victory slip away on Synek's jumper.

The Warriors threw the ball away on the 15 seconds and Belleville was able to hang on and stall out the victory, its second in the SWC.

Costly floor mistakes and unsteady reserve marksmanship by the Warriors helped the Maroons Friday. Belleville was able to capitalize on Warrior mistakes, and early claimed control of both backboards.

Madison Christmas Treats Wednesday, Venice Friday

Packaging of Madison Christmas treats was in progress today at the Madison recreation center, and distribution is planned Wednesday. Meanwhile, Venice holiday treats will be assembled Wednesday evening and will be given out on Friday.

The two programs are sponsored by the police departments, and the treats are composed of candy and fruit. In both cases, the projects are financed by contributions from businesses, organizations and individuals. Madison plans call for most of the gifts to be prepared today with the remainder completed tomorrow.

Schedule For Schools

Wednesday's schedule calls for treats to be given out at 9 a.m. at St. Mary's school, 10 a.m. at the Louis Bae school, 11 a.m. at the Harris school and 1 p.m. at Madison junior high school.

From 1 to 2 p. m. Santa will be at the recreation center at Seventh street and Lee avenue to present treats to pre-school children. Then, from 2 to 5 p.m., youngsters will receive the packages at the West Madison recreation center, West Third and Washington streets.

Treats for tots also will be presented from 3 to 5 p.m. Wednesday at the Harrison recreation center, Eagle Park Acres. Police officers will take the packages to homes of children north of the Madison school.

Madison Yule Displays To Be Judged Wednesday

With Christmas home exterior lighting displays beginning to blossom out in Madison, as in other parts of the Quad-Cities, all is in readiness for inspection of the holiday decorations by a judging panel representing the Madison Rotary club.

The judges will tour Madison this Wednesday evening, Dec. 21, and it is hoped to reach a decision on the prize winners that night so that they can be announced Thursday.

This will enable Quad-Cityans to view the winning displays over the Christmas holiday.

Five $20 Prizes Again this year, prizes will total $100, with five identical awards of $20 to be presented. Arrangements are being made by the club's Christmas lighting committee, headed by Anthony Zedolek.

While no entry blanks are required for participation in the Madison Rotary contest, residents are being urged to have their displays turned on throughout Wednesday evening. Exact route the judges will traverse has not been determined, but it is planned to visit all areas.

To qualify, displays must include some type of outside holiday lighting effect. In past years, a wide variety of decorations has been seen, and the extent of participation has grown steadily.

The Illinois Power Co. contributes in the annual program and contributes $50 to the award fund. The other $40 is given from the sponsoring club's treasury.

McCormick Is Court Clerk Appointee

Robert T. McCormick, 3132 Aubrey avenue, deputy treasurer of Madison county, has been appointed chief deputy circuit clerk on a temporary basis, effective Jan. 1.

Announcement was made last week by Circuit Clerk William V. Portelli, Granite City. A Democrat, Portelli was elected circuit clerk in November and took office on Dec. 5.

McCormick, who is 49 and has been deputy treasurer for the past two years, will replace Eugene Berghoff, Wood River, who has resigned and moved over to the sheriff's office.

Portelli said the appointment was made pending precinct and county Democratic committee approval. He added the appointment may be temporary, since McCormick "may later aspire to a more attractive position, financially, and he should be free to accept any position which could mean an advancement."

Portelli said that any other changes in office personnel would be "gradual" so as not to hamper the efficiency of office operation and to maintain it at a high point of efficiency.

As Madison county circuit court clerk, Portelli succeeded the late Simon Kelleman Jr., a veteran in the elective office. Berghoff had been serving as pro tempore clerk under an interim appointment.

Committees to Discuss Juvenile Home Plans

Construction plans for the new juvenile detention home near Edwardsville will be discussed tonight by a joint committee of the board of supervisors.

Samuel E. Samner, Alton architect, will present the plans to the juvenile home committee, headed by William B. Webb Jr. of Granite City, and the building committee.

Work on the new home is expected to begin next spring, and should be ready for use within a year, it is said.

Cost of the home is estimated at $200,000. Funds for construction will come from the 1/2 cent sales tax levied in unincorporated areas in the county since Sept. 8, 1959. At present, $142,465 is earmarked for construction.

The funds represent 60 percent of sales tax collections. The new building will house juveniles now lodged in the county jail or at private homes. It will be located on property at county tuberculosis sanatorium.

Eagles' 4000 Tin Can 'Alp' To Go Into SA Yule Baskets

The Eagles of Aerie 1126 are figuratively "spreading their wings" to enfold the community's needy, underfed, destitute and unemployed families in the Christmas spirit.

The fraternalists, under chairmanship of St. Clair Shuppert, are winding up their vigorous holiday campaign collection of canned goods to go into the Christmas baskets to be distributed this week by the Salvation Army. They have a small mountain of cans.

The baskets - 400 of them - will provision the Christmas tables of Quad-Cityans deserving of the "extra" in their Yuletide stockings. Children's toys and playthings for the young will be included.

In consequence of the Eagles' drive, a small mountain of 4000 cans of foodstuffs will make its way to the Salvation Army's Christmas Cheer headquarters at 1824 State street this week.

Shuppert said that more than 60 cases of canned goods had already been collected by the fraternal order. The Eagles also are buying additional fill-items of tinned meats, produce and staples to be delivered either Tuesday or Wednesday.

Purchase is at wholesale prices through the co-operation of a locally-based chain grocery firm.

"Altogether," Shuppert estimated today, "we should be able to turn over to the Salvation Army in excess of 4000 cases of foodstuffs for its Christmas baskets."

All collection bags left at the various Quad-City area depots will in turn be picked up by Goodwill Industries trucks and taken to the St. Louis works center.

Balance Of Spending, Taxes Called Biggest State Problem

When the new state administration begins next month, the biggest problem it will face will be financial. Authority for this is a survey of the state representatives and senators, plus the view of governor-elect Otto Kerner, who says, "We may have to tighten our belts."

Basically, financing a state is no different from an individual's fiscal affairs. He can spend up to the limit of the money he receives, aided in some cases by long-term loans whose principal and interest payments he considers in planning his budget.

There are complicating factors, of course. The Illinois School Problems Commission says between $75 and $100 million more will be needed for schools in the 1961-63 biennium. The Taxpayers Federation of Illinois notes the likelihood of serious supplemental appropriations. The Illinois Retail Merchants Association says "many millions of dollars of added revenue" will be needed due to "the growth of the state, its citizens' increasing longevity and the increase in the cost of doing business." But IRMA President Joseph Meek comments that an income tax is "politically not feasible and probably unconstitutional," the current sales-use tax is "already sufficiently high to seriously penalize low-income families," an increase in corporate franchise taxes "would work against the state's economic growth," and the state constitution's revenue section "eliminates everything else."

The governor-elect has plans for greater school aid and more attention to the state mental health program, and has cited as additional revenue sources broadening of the sales tax, plugging of loopholes in its collection, tightening of alcohol taxes and delegation of property tax equalizer decisions to an impartial board. It is also felt in some circles that application of the state multiplier to personal property assessments should be eliminated or clarified, since this has weakened proper tax collections in many counties and districts, automatically affecting the amount of state financial aid to them.

One of the brightest aspects in a generally bleak outlook is that Kerner recognizes the monetary problem, asserts he will give it his immediate attention, hopes to hold the upcoming budget below $3 billion and will emphasize economy in all endeavors. He proposes creation of a detailed "performance" budget, transfer of state records to the accrual system of accounting, greater internal control of state assets and employment of an industrial efficiency expert to eliminate duplication of departmental efforts and cut unnecessary programs.

"We may not have to go into the question of new taxes if we practice economy measures and do a better job of collecting taxes," Kerner says. This approach will draw warm support from those who feel rising state expenditures must not be taken for granted, but rather weighed in the light of available funds with the benefits of increased spending compared directly with the effects of higher taxes.

Golden Rule Is Way To 'Keep Christmas In Your Driving'

"Keep Christmas in your driving" is the title of a campaign by Illinois clergy and traffic officials, aimed at reminding motorists of their moral responsibility for safe driving. They note that one of the chief causes of highway accidents is breaking of the "golden rule" — "do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

Citing various traffic law violations, some of them appearing to be only petty infractions, the State Division of Traffic Safety points out that they can and regularly do contribute to collisions and personal injuries. When a driver travels at high speed through a residential neighborhood, it asks him to consider whether he would want others driving by his house the same way. Other impolite or illegal practices in traffic also take on a new appearance when motorists think whether they would want to be treated in a like manner.

Sponsors of the drive—intended to curtail the toll of damage, injury and death over the Christmas and New Year's holidays—assert that safety responsibility depends on each individual driver. "If we respect the rights and lives of others as diligently as we would have our rights and our lives respected, we would see an abrupt change in our fatality rate," Traffic Safety Coordinator Robert A. Campbell says.

Viewed as a spiritual and moral problem, highway safety requires that all develop a true feeling of respect toward their fellow motorists. As the campaign slogan says, "Drive by the golden rule—you are your brother's keeper."

Numerous Depot Employee Awards Recognize Proficiency, Alertness

One of the most far-reaching governmental fiscal and personnel policies is the regular distribution of monetary awards for "worthwhile suggestions and top job performances" by federal employees.

Administered by the Civil Service Commission, the award program totals some $13 million a year and results in savings exceeding $140 million. As well as recognizing outstanding competence and devotion to duty, it encourages all employees to help weed out wasteful or costly procedures — a boon to already-burdened taxpayers and to perpetuation of the nation's strength.

Largest award has been $25,000, the maximum allowed by law, split by five Army scientists who developed a means of greatly reducing the size of electronic circuits, vital to such mechanisms as the nose cones of rockets. Most of the rewards are much smaller, and nearly 200,000 federal workers have been sharing in the allocations each year.

Judging by the large number of awards given out locally, employees at the Engineer Depot are among the most alert and skilled government workers anywhere in the country.

Those who lose their tempers at games should stick to other pursuits.

Fire Company May Again Aid In Madison Civic Improvement

Proposed remodeling of the Madison city hall and the adjacent firemen's hall would provide additional room for the police and fire departments and city offices, as well as affording more convenient public access to them.

Another advantage of the plan is that an idle building would be put to constructive use. While financing details have not yet been announced, it may be that a lease or purchase arrangement can be made with the Madison fire company, as has been done for the library, city garage and other projects.

The past agreements have aided the fire company's finances and enabled the city to proceed with programs that otherwise might have been delayed or dropped. If planning indicates that the remodeling can be carried out at a reasonable cost, a similar cooperative procedure may prove feasible.

Guy Martin, 71, Former Steelmill Worker, Dies

Guy Martin, 71, former Granite City resident employed at the Granite City Steel Co., Blast Furnace plant, died Sunday at City Hospital, St. Louis. Mr. Martin, who had been a resident of Granite City for about 15 years, moved to St. Louis three years ago.

He was the brother of Mrs. George Blachoff, Granite City. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at a St. Louis funeral home.

"My Darling Nellie Gray" was composed by Benjamin Russell Handley, who was born in Rushville, Ohio.

Deaf And Dumb Boy, 17, Missing From Home

A local area boy, 17-year-old James William Mason, described as being deaf-mute, was reported missing from his home Saturday.

County authorities were notified by the parents, who reside at 1408 Norwood drive, that the youth had left in a 1958 auto on Friday, leaving a message that he would return of Saturday. When he failed to return, the parents notified the sheriff's office. The boy is six feet three inches tall, the parents said. His message did not say where he was going.

Knicker Fined $50, Freed On $5000 Bond

An additional charge of fictitious auto license plates was placed against William E. Knicker, 30, of Grandin, Mo., who pleaded guilty to the charge Thursday before Police Magistrate Gasparovic.

Knicker was returned here from the county jail for the hearing and after paying a $50 fine on the license charge, was freed on $5000 property bond on charges of receiving and concealing stolen goods, filed last week by the state's attorney's office. The goods were identified as a radio and clothing that had been taken during a break-in Dec. 4 at Gum Cleaners.

Knicker was arrested early last week at 1225 Twenty-second street along with Dorothy Dukeman, 36, of that address, who also faces the same two charges. Both denied the crime and the woman, who was freed Tuesday on $2500 bond, said she had found the items in a tavern near Collinsville which she recently had purchased. Their preliminary hearings are set for Jan. 5.

Mohrlist Arrested Following Accident

Cold A Buying Boom; Week To Bring Free Movies, Bicycles

Quadrant merchants viewed the lowered temperatures of the past 10 days as a Christmas boon in that it gave impetus to the buying of holiday gifts.

While business was brisk and the home folks out in force, nothing is the way of a new holiday sales record is expected to be chalked up.

However, this week's showing probably will exceed that of a year ago, since Christmas purchasing has been a nite on the laggard side.

Alvin T. Barnes, executive secretary of the Associated Retailers and Civic Association, said that the cold has resulted in a new spate of buying. The unseasonable warmth of late November and early December, he marked, appeared to have been a check on shoppers.

Christmas time and Yule shopping are associated with snow-freezing or zero headings and snow.

Barnes reported that the federal reserve system has found regional Christmas shopping a few points from that of 1939, and the situation is probably rectified here. He had no available area figures.

With all schools in recess by next week, merchants can look for a veritable "inundation" of pupils on the streets and in the stores.

Work Contract Awarded On County Nursing Home

Gabriel & Dufort, Granite City architects, planned the project.

Two Granite City contractors, G. H. Sternberg Co. and M. H. Wolf & Co., also bid on the project.

The county home committee is headed by Charles Werner of Namooki township. Nelson Hagauer of Granite City township is a member of the committee.

Annual Meeting of County Tax Assessors is Dec. 29

Madison county assessors have met Thursday, Dec. 29, at the date for their annual meeting at the county court house in Edwardsville, and plan to present resolutions to petition local representatives to present proposed legislation which would modify two current assessment procedures.

During a meeting held last week in the office of County Treasurer Dan McGee, the Madison County Assessors' Association set the date for the annual gathering and discussed the two points of current assessing regulations where they feel relief would be advisable.

One is the elimination entirely of assessing household furniture. "It is one of our biggest problems," said McGee, "and then ask the householder how much he feels his furniture is worth."

"I would estimate that 75% of the cost of making the assessment is determined by the value of furniture," he continued. "If the value of a household's furniture is established at $250 by a deputy assessor, the average tax would be about $10, and it costs our office just about that much for each tax bill we mail." Cruse told the Press-Record.

Some people are going to argue that persons who do not own furniture are being let off easy," Cruse said, "but these people are not the ones paying tax bills anyway."

The second resolution to be discussed and possibly adopted at the annual meeting would be possible tax relief for retired state and federal employees. Older people are feeling the pinch of the difficulty to own property.

"The couple owning a $15,000 house and living on Social Security find it pretty hard to pay around $500 a year in taxes on their property," he said.

The resolutions to petition state representatives to take action in the state legislature, if introduced at the annual meeting, will be brought forth by the president of the county assessors' association, James Gorman Alton.

NOTHING, but nothing, can compare with lobster newburg for your most exacting needs in entertaining—any time of the year and for any special occasion. Here's a happy blending of lobster, fresh from icy waters, and the most sophisticated of sauces... rich, creamy, laced with sherry. And easy to prepare? Certainly, thanks to today's frozen cooked foods processors. Try this one, pictured here. Serve the lobster newburg right from the chafing dish, over medium toast, with a sprinkle of salt almonds on top.

Entertaining for lunch? Your guests will enjoy this lobster soufflé with sherry lobster sauce. Defrost two packages of frozen cooked lobster newburg to room temperature and measure out two cups, leaving a half cup for the sauce. Beat five egg yolks and add to the two cups of lobster, along with one and one-half cups of flaked bread crumbs with crumbs removed. Beat the five egg whites with ½ cup salt until stiff and fold into lobster mixture. Pour into a well-buttered, two-quart casserole and bake in a 325 degree oven for 45 mins. to one hour, or until an inserted silver knife comes out clean.

For your lobster sherry sauce, mix the half cup of lobster newburg with one-fourth cup of cream, heat and serve a spoonful over each portion of soufflé. Serve with silver green beans and almonds and a boiled tomato.

when opposed to the Nazi doctrine. We want to emphasize "doctrine," because we believe it is the doctrine that is on trial today before the world and not the individual. We believe that every country has its Eichmann with an inborn bestiality, all they need is a government and a doctrine which sanctions such criminal behavior and there they are with their (in)human instincts and human arrogance.

The pamphlet calls these beasts "Rauhs verbecher" (professionally trained criminals). Having read the pamphlet and viewed the pictures therein, we are so shocked that we find no proper word for such sadistic behavior in our vocabulary. Here are some words in English for a wild beast of the jungle kills only for reasons of self-preservation. Let us hope that the world has learned a lesson from the happenings in Nazi-Germany or do similar things still happen in other parts of the world today and are only concealed from sight by the "Curtains." Let us remember, the world is large, the horrors of the happenings inside the Nazi sphere of influence only a small part of the world's crimes.

"Buchwald" is only a very short distance from "Weimar," the city of Goethe and Schiller, idols of German literature and culture. Then a "Buchwald" could exist so close to a center of German culture (culture) where illiteracy, or can happen, reigns? Read about the "Congo" on television news. If one does, it seems incomprehensible how people like this can be entrusted with self-government. It can't be. We need to reveal our state of world affairs. We have to do now, or we may exceed our limit for publication.

We will write again soon about our impressions of the turmoil in the south, as viewed on television. Editor permitting, we will.

Thank you

look into the matter of a federal parole," Robertson said.

The state parole board meets on Dec. 10, 31 days after Governor-elect Otto Kerner takes office. Any action by retiring Gov. Stratten would have to be taken before that date, Robertson said.

Robertson explained it is within the governor's power to lift such a case out of normal channels and act on it by giving the prisoner a parole or reducing the sentence.

In the petition, Robertson is making complete restitution to the state for all funds which the state alleged were taken from it by his defection. "He has cooperated completely with the state and law enforcement officials in expediting recovery of his losses," the petition continues.

"The final report of the trustee of the state of Illinois appointed to receive and liquidate assets of this petitioner, which he voluntarily surrendered, said that, shows that the state of Illinois has received all of the assets he claimed due to him."

Based on incomplete and un-audited hearing records, the petition today, it appears something like 700 Christmas baskets will go out this year to make the holidays of families in need and want.

Toys and children's playthings are included in the baskets because, without them, Christmas for the young is not another day on the winter calendar.

GC Police Aiding In Probe of 'Salt Shaker' Bomb

Police Chief Raymond Willard disclosed Friday that local police are working with FBI and railroad agents in an investigation of a "salt-shaker" TNT bomb that was found in weeds near Washburn Railroad yards a short distance north of the Nianguah avenue crossing.

The bomb, which failed to go off after two men were seen to light it, is believed to have been placed by disgruntled railroad workers or persons interested in disrupting piggyback hauling of iron ore.

Chief Willard said, "The bomb, which failed to go off after two men were seen to light it, is believed to have been placed by disgruntled railroad workers or persons interested in disrupting piggyback hauling of iron ore."

A railroad tower employee saw two men place an object between the tracks and light it about 9 p.m. Tuesday. The men departed and a short time later the object returned and kicked the object away from the rails, it was learned.

Found Next Morning
Railroad agents were notified, but it was not until the next morning that the bomb was found. The railroad tower employee said he thought the two men had seen on the tracks and entered the tunnel.

"If we had been notified right away," Chief Willard said, "we might have been able to have gotten a better lead on the suspects."

New Salt Shaker
The bomb was described as a new, glass salt shaker of the type used in restaurants. It was packed with TNT and was improperly. The agents and a local police turned it over to the St. Louis police department bomb squad.

FBI agents from the Belleville office were summoned to the event the bomb placement would be a federal law violation. The investigation is continuing as other incidents of vandalism and destruction are reported in other areas.

The network of tracks here is made up of several railroads—Wabash, Gulf, Mobile & Ohio, New York Central, Terminal Railroad Association, Illinois Terminal, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Chicago & Eastern Illinois.

School Building 3 'R's'

Gains Cited By Huber

The president of the Granite City School Board told the Daybreak Optimists Saturday morning that the Community District schools' operations budget for 1960-61 will be $3,706,632, which he reported, "is about the same" as that of the previous fiscal period.

In his talk before the service club, breakfast at the YMCA, Huber enumerated and detailed some of the accomplishments in the way of building and instruction realized under board supervision.

Within a comparatively short period of years, he told the breakfasters, three new elementary schools and Prather Junior high school have been built, materially augmenting the educational opportunities afforded the youth of the community.

Additionally, on the building front, he pointed to the enlargement of Granite City high school through the addition of 20 classrooms and four shops. Federal aid funds made the latter possible, he noted.

Board President Huber said the curriculum had been substantially strengthened and enlarged with "improvements" to which he asserted the board well might point with justifiable pride.

Among the advancements he listed: The schools' improved reading program; better teacher supervision; the development and production of a language laboratory; and the addition of language instruction at the seventh and eighth grade levels.

The latter, he pointed out, is an innovation this term. Also new this year is the organized string instrumental group of student musicians. String or orchestral units are new to the curriculum, although the school has had a string band for many years.

High school band. The school has a string band, which includes a variety of instruments, including the tuba, euphonium, and baritone. The band is directed by Mr. Huber.

Water Users' Cut

E. C. Smith, general manager of the East St. Louis & International Water Co., said this morning he had yet to receive formal notification of the order entered last week calling for a $93,523 reduction in water rates.

The water company serves about 65,000 customers, directly and indirectly, including residential, business and industrial consumers of the Quad-Cities.

Smith reported today he understood the new rate schedule is to start Jan. 1.

The water company had been seeking a 44 1/2% rate boost last year was granted a 24% hike. The latest reduction is a result of releasing on the 24% boost.
